

GCB submission notes

submission questions

What is the scientific question you are addressing?

What is/are the key finding(s) that answers this question?

Why is this work important and timely?

Does your paper fall within the scope of GCB; what biological AND global change aspects does it address?

What are the three most recently published papers that are relevant to this question? This information will assist the Editors in selecting reviewers.